

Less Stress, Better Mindset for Greater Results on and off the Golf Course

What do LPGA Touring Professionals Know That You Don't?

By John Gearon

If you are less stressed, you will be mentally stronger and you will play better golf. Q-Link Pendant, quite simply, is the most effective innovation in years for those just wanting reduce stress and increase improvement in their day to day life.

"Since I started using my Q-Link, I have won 3 times and I feel calmer in tough situations, it really makes a difference when under pressure". Lorena Ochoa, won 6 times wearing Q-Link and was LPGA Player of the Year in 2006.

"It works for me!" Mark Calcavecchia credits part of his recent resurgence to Q-Link. He broke the PGA 72-hole scoring record that had stood for 48 years.

Charles Howell III recently won the Nissan Open 2007 and is currently No.1 on the money list & has been a long time wearer of a Q-Link Pendant.

Leading Australian Tour Professionals are now seeing results since they have been wearing it. What is this product that has been used by players who have won over 100 tournaments? Q-Link is the most effective innovation in years is available to everyone - from PGA Tour Professionals wanting an edge to those just wanting an improvement in their day to day life.

Q-Link is a pendant you wear around your neck, that according to tests carried out on those who wear it, helps mental focus and reduces the symptoms of stress that can both ruin a golf score and cause undue anxiety and stress in people's lives. Developed by Q-Link / Clarus Research (www.qlink.com.au), the Q-Link pendant acts like a tuning fork to balance the body's natural biochemical and mental energy.

Q-Link enhances your body's energy resulting in a higher level of mental sharpness. In addition to reducing the effects of emotional stress, it reduces the harmful effects of electromagnetic fields (EMF) generated by electronic equipment such as mobile phones, computers, wireless technology and hairdryers.

"Q-Link provides a key to refining nearly every aspect of life from jet lag to stress to chronic fatigue." Peter Clecak, PhD, University of California Irvine.

"I first started wearing the Q-Link in June of 2002. I shortly won the Michelob Championship at Kingsmill thereafter in October, and it hasn't come off since."

HOW DOES Q-LINK PENDANT WORK?

Q-Link was developed in conjunction with scientists from Stanford University and the University of California. At its heart is Sympathetic Resonance Technology (SRT). With SRT, the body of the wearer is "tuned" by the Q-Link pendant and helps place the body in a reduced state of stress both on and off the golf course. The newest Q-Link model features the improved SRT-3 resonating cell, making it considerably stronger and more effective than previous versions that were already successful. Robert Williams, the developer of Q-Link, is particularly excited about the latest product enhancements. "Golfers have noticed Q-Link's effects more quickly, have experienced faster recovery times under stress, realized heightened energy, stamina and muscle strength. They are also reporting sharper levels of concentration and are less stress before they go to play a round". Golfers of all skill levels understand the importance of the mental game and focus. But other than reading books, watching DVDs or hiring personal mental-game gurus, what else can golfers do to sharpen their game? Q-link may be the answer for golfers looking for a new advantage. By reducing stress helps golfers our anyone concentrate better, feel more relaxed and stay in that

“The Q-Link has helped me with my energy and focus on and off the course and it played a significant role in my victory at the U.S. Open.”

"zone" that athletes of all kinds strive for. The result is lower scores no matter what level a golfer plays or handicap they have!

The new Q-Link Pendant was voted the "Best New Product" at the recent PGA Expo. Away from the golf course, the far reaching benefits of Q-Link in day to day life cannot be underestimated, with almost everyone who wears one noticing immediate positive results. BioMeridian, the world's largest manufacturer of Meridian Stress Assessment instrumentation and systems carried out a registered stress assessment test to demonstrate the immediate effectiveness of Q-Link technology. Steve McGregor of MONEY BACK GUARANTEE!

The company is so confident in the performance of the Q-Link pendant that it carries a 100-day money back guarantee. In a sport where participants easily spend hundreds of dollars on a new driver, putter or set of irons, an investment of just $198 in a new Q-Link Pendant is a small price to pay for lower scores and more enjoyment when playing.

BioMeridian who personally performed many of the initial PGA Tour player tests, was excited and suitably impressed with Q-Link: "I've conducted thousands of tests in a multitude of industries, and I've never seen anything like Q-Link's results," says McGregor. "Whether Q-Link was worn for two minutes or two days, every subject exhibited an increase in measurable cell energy and a strengthened resistance to the effects of stress. The great thing about this product is that it applies to anything you do in life, work, play and even sleep." A world where day to day stress levels are ever-increasing and the need to remain mentally alert becomes more prevalent, Q-Link offers the wearer benefits to provide an overall improvement in quality of life and inner balance.

MacGregor Ladies MACTEC NVG2 Driver

The ultimate blend of power and control in a quality Ladies' Driver.

Some Tech Talk - Everyone wants more distance from a driver. This much is a given. That's why the MACTEC NVG2 Driver has Cup Face 360° Technology. So what does this mean? This technology makes the entire face the sweet spot, meaning you'll get maximum distance even on off-centre hits. This particular club is built specifically for ladies looking for optimal flight and sweet feel.

Its Proprietary Plasma Welding is completely off the Beta-Titanium Cup Face enabling maximum rebound properties over a large hitting area. There is no welding on the clubface. The ladies shaft is a Fujikura™ Quadra Action Shaft that generates added club-head speed that, in turn, generates more distance. But distance technology isn't much help if it only helps to drive your ball further into the woods. With this in mind, the Ladies MACTEC NVG2 Driver is also equipped with Quadra Tungsten Weighting. These strategically placed weights create a higher MOI to reduce twisting and provide more accuracy and control. In addition, this driver has an incredibly thin crown (.6mm) that has an 8% lower CG positioned for low spin, high launch and neutral shot bias. To top it off the grip is specifically built for soft feel without sacrificing control.

60-Day performance guarantee.

Quality of Life Begins with a Q-Link Pendant

Mental fatigue, illness and stress are the products of everyday life for athletes as well as the rest of us. The body's energy system can be drained and interrupted by stressors in the environment and internal, but there is an innovative treatment and means of preventing these symptoms.

The result of more than 17 years research involving universities such as Stanford in the US, Imperial College in the UK and the University of Wollongong, and its basis in quantum physics, Q-Link is not magic, but it does have incredible results. The Q-Link is a medically-tested wearable pendant encoded with Sympathetic Resonance Technology or SRTTM that works on the body's energy meridians.

It acts as a tuning fork that resonates with the ideal note at which the body's energy system should hum. The body then pitches itself at this ideal note to become harmonized and balanced.

The Q-Link strengthens the body's ability to cope with stress, aids in self-healing and resisting the aging process. Studies show that Q-Link increases energy levels and enhances mental performance, especially under pressure. Thousands of wearers have benefited from reduced headaches; better overall sleep; more energy; increased concentration and focus; reduced jetlag; improved sporting performance; and reduced impact from exposure to mobile phones, computers and other electrical devices.

Editors note:

I have been wearing a Q-Link pendant now for nearly four weeks and after the first three weeks noticed a marked improvement in energy, especially in the afternoons. I don't have that 3.30pm slump I used to have. I have also noticed that I have increased energy levels first thing in the morning.
